BRITAIN'S WAR DEBTS.

SENATIONAL STATEMENT AUTHORITATIVELY DENIED.

AMERICA NOT DENYING BRITAIN.

LONDON, October 6.

An authoritative denial is issued of the sensational statement declaring that the United States is pressing Britain for repayment of her war debts. It is emphasised that the United States would not desire to prejudice the issues at the Washington Conference by raising such an important and embarrassing subject at present and it is pointed out that while President Harding is opposed to the question of war debts being discussed at the Washington Conference he is heartily in favour of easy payments for the benefits of the debtor nations.

FUNDING OF ALLIED DEBTS DOUBTFUL.

WASHINGTON, October 6.

The president has made it known that he intends to ask Congress soon to consider, and if possible promptly pass a measure empowering the Secretary of the Treasury to negotiate for the funding of Allied debts. It cannot be said, however, that there is much cause for confidence that the Senate will recede from its present attitude of recalcitrancy which is exemplified by the fact that in spite of President Harding's request for the Senate to postpone action on the measure exempting American shipping from the payment of Panama Canal tolls. A vote thereon will be demanded on October 10, and even if it is likely that the Senate will pass the measure though it will probably be held up in the House of Representatives, the present temper of Congress, particularly the Senate, makes the passage of the bill regarding the funding of Allied debts very doubtful.

WASHINGTON CONFERENCE.

HARDING TAKES A LESSON FROM HISTORY.

SENATE SUPPORT ESSENTIAL.

WASHINGTON, October 6.

Reversing the method adopted by Mr. Wilson when he took personal leadership of the American delegation in Paris, President Harding clearly intends to try to carry the Senate along with him either as the negotiations of the Washington Conference proceed or when they are about to reach conclusion. It should be remembered in this connection that without the approval of the Senate nothing very definite can be done by the United States.

NETHERLANDS HANDED INVITATION.

THE HAGUE, October 6.

The American Minister has presented to the Foreign Minister President Harding's invitation to the Netherlands to attend the Washington Conference.

AUSTRALIA'S DELEGATE DISAPPROVED.

MELBOURNE, October 7.

In the House of Representatives, Mr. Hughes, the Prime Minister, announced that consequent upon an interchange of cables between Australia and the United States, the Federal Government had appointed Senator Pearce, the Minister of Defence, to represent Australia at the Washington Conference. Senator Pearce will sit at the same table as the British delegates. The announcement was disapproved by the Labour members and Mr. Charlton moved that representatives of all parties be deputed to the Conference.

Mr. Charlton's amendment was defeated by 44 votes to 14.

FALLING MARK.

INDUSTRY BOOMS AND LIVING COSTS RISE.

BERLIN, October 6.

The two-fold effect of the depreciation of the mark, namely the industrial boom and the rise in the cost of living continues and is emphasised by daily announcements of increases in the price of commodities and high dividends. The report of the Humboldt Machine Construction Institute declaring a dividend of 10 per cent. compared with previous 6 per cent. states that an unprecedented number of orders have been received from abroad including one of 17,000,000 marks of which 50 per cent. has already been paid. The Offenbach rubber works have increased their share capital from eight to 17,000,000 marks.

AMERICAN IMMIGRATION RESTRICTION LAW.

BRITISH GOVERNMENT APPROACHING WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, October 6.

The British Government is taking up with Washington the question of the entry of British subjects into the United States. This is due to the fact that many British and other cases have occurred lately where individuals obtained the necessary visa (either but found on arrival at New York that under the recent immigration restriction law the total monthly number of people permitted entry from the country to which they belong had been already reached. They had therefore become liable to detention at Ellis Island and had been subjected to many hardships. They may then alternatively be admitted later or forthwith repatriated.

NOT A GENTLEMAN.

OBSTRUCTING TRAFFIC IN THE CITY.

The trouble given the police by people who insist upon standing in the roadway while waiting for trams was mentioned to Magistrate Lindsay this morning when a Chinese named Kwok Kam Lin was charged with having obstructed the roadway in Des Voeux Road Central at 6.55 p.m. yesterday, and with refusing to move to the side of the road when called upon to do so by an Indian constable. The Captain Superintendent of Police, who appeared to prosecute, said that the police had been worried a good deal lately by persons who stood in the roadway in Des Voeux Road waiting for tram cars, and resented the action of the police in asking them to stand on the footpath, this in spite of the notices exhibited on the tram standards at all stopping points. Recently the police had had a lot of trouble with people who persisted in standing on the roadway near the Post Office and the Hongkong Hotel on both sides of Des Voeux Road. The same state of affairs also obtained at the junction of Ice House Street and outside the King Edward Hotel. In this particular case, the constable asked the defendant and others to move to the footpath. All complied except the defendant who argued with the constable, telling him that he was a solicitor's clerk and knew more law than he did.

The constable, in the witness box, said that when he said in English "Step back, please, gentlemen," everyone complied except the defendant, so he addressed him in Chinese. The defendant moved back one pace and said in English "Why, why?" The witness repeated his request in English "Gentlemen, please step back," and explained to the defendant that he must not obstruct traffic, pointing as he did so, to the notice on the tram standard. The defendant said "That notice was not meant for gentlemen. I am a gentleman. I have no baggage with me, how can I obstruct the road?" The defendant added as an afterthought "I am a Government Solicitor's clerk and know more about regulations than you do. You think a lot of yourself. You are only a three stripe sergeant after all. I am a gentleman."

By the C.S.P.: The witness then threatened to arrest him, and the defendant said "I don't care." The witness marched him to the Central Station where the Inspector took defendant's name and address and instructed the witness to summons him.

The defendant, who spoke in Chinese said that the Sergeant's story was not all true. "He motioned me back," he said. "I moved back one pace, and told him that I was in a hurry to catch a tram car. He caught me by the wrist and proceeded to drag me. I told him he need not arrest me, as I would go to the station with him."

The Magistrate: The manner you were arrested is not the question. The point is when asked to go to the pavement by a Sergeant who is regulating traffic, you must do so.

Defendant: I did.
You said in your own statement that you moved back only one pace. You did not go to the pavement. I was two feet from the pavement. You are fined $5.

Mr. Wolfe said that the situation was aggravated at present as the Electric Company occupy half the width of the road with earth from trenches dug for the new cables. If people were allowed to stand on the road and cause further obstruction, little or no space would be left for traffic which must come to a standstill as a result.

INTERPORT POLO.

MONDAY'S MATCH.

PROSPECTS DISCUSSED.

As next Monday will see the decision of the Kewick Cup for Interport Polo, a few thoughts on the match will not be out of place. Of the Hongkong team, which was so narrowly defeated last year, only Major Timmis remains, and every one must admit that the loss of men like Mr. John Johnstone with his great experience and knowledge of the game, not to mention his fine stable, and that fine back, Mr. Robert Patterson, is no light one. In Polo, perhaps more than other games, experience is a very vital point, as we see at home where veterans like Mr. Buckmaster still hold their own, while an older generation will reach John Watson, who played back for Ireland in nineteen Internationals. Still we must admit that the English team this year, practically composed of veterans, went down badly before America.

The Hongkong team has been selected as follows:—Back Major Timmis. This officer is quite a veteran at the game. He learnt the game in that Home of Polo, India, and has played in many tournaments there and in South Africa and Gibraltar. A very fine horseman, he gets the last ounce out of his ponies, and hits well on both sides. He is up to all the tricks of the game but is a little inclined to go too far up the ground. In fact, he is probably better at 2 than back, but there was no other back available, and in any case, he may be relied on to go all out from start to finish. Captain Neville, R.A.S.C. is playing 3. Comparatively a novice, he has improved out of all knowledge. He is very keen and combines well with his backs. Mr. Bibby—the Jardine representative plays 2. He is also a beginner, but has the makings of a fine player, as he hits well. He has occasionally some difficulty in holding his ponies. Lieut. Sargent only learnt his Polo since the Whitehires arrived here two years ago. He is a brilliant hitter and well mounted, but inclined to be selfish.

To sum up, the team is a fine one, if they will only combine. Combination is the secret of success in Polo, as in nearly every other game and that perfect understanding whereby one player will drop, almost unconsciously into another's place, is absolutely essential.

Turning to the visitors, when we were recently in Shanghai, there was such a boom in Polo, and so many players that not only were they playing six days a week, but the players had to be divided into two classes—A and B,—and the number of chukkers each man was allowed to play restricted. They will therefore have a very large field to pick from. On the other hand, the visiting team are always at a disadvantage, as some men who would be selected are unable to get away, and they are also unable to get a practice game on the new ground. They arrived by the "Empress of Russia" at 3 p.m. yesterday. It seems a pity that the Gymkhana Committee did not see their way to postponing Saturday's meeting for a week, so that they could have a practice game. Their ponies have been here some time, but of course, have not been played. In MacMichael they have a very fine player, whether he plays back or 2. If our memory serves us, he played last year in the winning team. They are probably better mounted all through than our representatives.

To sum up, it ought to be a close, hard galloping game, and we think the side that combines best will win. On Wednesday a Polo Gymkhana is advertised, and there was to have been a four chukker match between the Shanghai Light Horse and the Army (past and present) represented by Major Timmis, Lieut. Dodginton, Captain Johnson and Mr. Bell Irving. We now hear, however, that the Shanghai reserve man, David, who would have completed the Light Horse team, is not coming, so we do not know what will happen.

We understand the local Polo Club are dining the Shanghai team on the 10th at the Hongkong Hotel and that the following night Mrs. Ross is giving a dance for them at the Peak Club.

In conclusion, may it be a good, hard galloping match, and may the best team win.

WEDNESDAY'S PROGRAMME.

The Gymkhana programme will include an Interport Section Tent Pegging competition. As this is a sport which Shanghai follows keenly, strong competition is assured.

The other events will be—Catching Tennis Ball: Gentlemen to ride at full gallop and throw tennis balls to ladies, who will catch them. Three runs.

Polo: Competitors will be mounted and will start from far side of Polo Ground, near stables, and hit a golf ball round a post with any golf club except a putter, to a hole opposite the Pavilion. First competitor holding out to win. Competitors to provide their own golf clubs and balls. Gretna Green Stakes: Gentlemen mounted will ride to a point where mares will be awaiting them, and where they will hand over their ponies. They will then run to the place where their lady partners in riches will be awaiting them, and pull them to the winning post. Riches will be provided.

Musical Chairs: Competitors will ride bare backed. Threading Needle Race: Gentlemen carrying a needle and thread will ride to a point where their mares will await them, and where they will dismount. They will then run to a point where their lady partners are standing with a cigarette and a box of matches. Ladies may help to light the cigarette in any way they like, but may not assist in threading the needle. Gentlemen will return mounted and the first gentleman past the winning post with his cigarette lighted and his needle threaded will win.

WASHINGTON
CONFERENCE.W. W. YEN'S LATEST MANOEUVRE.

(CANTON INFORMATION BUREAU).

Canton, October 4.—Some days ago Dr. W. W. Yen of the Peking Waichiao Pu telegraphed Mr. C. C. Wu, Vice-Minister for Foreign Affairs here, to say that Hsu Shih-chang had appointed the latter a member of the Peking Delegation to the Washington Conference and that arrangements had been made for him and his suite to sail from Shanghai either on the 4th or the 15th instant. In order that Dr. Yen might no longer shut his eyes to the realities of the situation, Mr. C. C. Wu has re-directed his attention to the very explicit terms of President Sun Yat-sen's declaration issued on September 5.

Mr. Wu has also reminded Dr. Yen that communications on the subject have hitherto been addressed to him as a private person and that no communication of any sort has been officially sent to this Government by Dr. Yen or any one else on behalf of the Peking administration. It has been deemed expedient to emphasize this fact because, while this Government adheres to the view that vital Chinese interests forbid a joint delegation under the direction and control of Hsu Shih-chang's administration, it is clear that Dr. Yen designs to represent the unauthorised appointment of Mr. C. C. Wu as having exhausted all efforts to secure Southern representation on the Peking Delegation to the Conference.

THE EPITHET

"MATERIALISTIC."

A gentleman at present lecturing here, although finding a materialistic cause for the modern instability of the social structure, is reported as stating that one particular exponent in the direction of improving conditions was and must be a failure because founded on a materialistic philosophy. It is understood that when he has completed his series of lectures, we will be in possession of a philosophy that is not materialistic. Let us survey the field calmly, paying a common sense and as far as possible a practical-minded regard to what we see there. This will make it unnecessary to go into the metaphysics of the subject, or to quarrel with the word materialistic as a reproachful epithet. We need not stay to point out that man's problem and his solution is and must be both materialistic and spiritualistic, since either without the other would be beyond his ken. First of all, then, we must consider the recent history of the human animal and the effects of that upon its state of mind. It seems to be generally agreed by people of all sorts of views and exponents of all kinds of philosophies that the War did make a difference. It changed the point of view, it brought new consciousness to the surface and submerged old ones, it stirred somnolence into wakefulness; it is believed, indeed, to have made fairly general, as a working gauge for living, albeit unformulated and nebulous, some adaptation of one or more of older philosophies that previously were not noticed to have any hold upon the people. Let us be bold, make a guess at the more or less unconscious philosophy of the majority, that will have to be ousted by the philosophy this lecturer proposes to disclose, and give it as plain a label as we can. The behaviour of all and sundry during the war, and since, suggests to us that in one form or another, the dominating idea at the back of men's minds to-day has been closely expressed already by Fitzgerald, in the quatrain:

O! threats of Hell and hopes of Paradise!
One thing at least is certain—this life flies;
One thing is certain, and the rest is lies—
The flower that once has blown for ever dies.

It is certain that a conviction of the truth of that, and a more than usually lively awareness of it, such as the War forced upon many, must profoundly affect the outlook and conduct of its possessors, though not invariably along like lines. Such direction depends upon the quality and extent of culture previously attained, and upon what we call temperament. The vulgar will snatch at the obvious moral, "let us eat, drink, and be merry, for to-morrow we die"; the more advanced will say that if this life be all, it behooves us to make the very best of it, not only for ourselves, but for those who shall come after us. Such a conclusion, for example, animates many of the Pacifists, the anti-militarists. "Poor devils," they say, looking on mankind with a great pity and compassion, "this life is all they have: why waste it in war?" It also naturally puts an emphasis upon the importance of so changing the material conditions of life as to permit the majority of our human ephemera to make the best of it. Thus altruism (which is spiritualistic) may work on a policy that superficial thinkers can describe as "materialistic," in a derogatory sense. Such persons expose themselves to the retort, by those who believe that "all the rest is lies," that they are offering the dog in exchange for his materialistic bone (which can furnish spiritual enjoyment as well as physical nourishment) a "spiritualistic" reflection of it, as in the fable. For certainties they would substitute chances (which they regard as certainties). Morally speaking, the case is as the poet foresaw:

The best lack all conviction while the worst

Are full of passionate intensity.

Is this "passionate intensity" the "sense of purpose" the lecturer desiderated? It is not. It was found during the war that the men engaged in the war did not favour these uncertainties. It has been found since that this absence of favour has become widespread. Hence, of course, special efforts by those interested to regain the old following and the former allegiance. It is not unsympathetic to point out that they essay a tremendous task, if the basic philosophy of the masses has become as alleged. It cannot be achieved, in that case, by telling the dog that its bone is too materialistic, by delivering lectures with carefully materialistic titles that turn out to be narrowly spiritualistic propaganda. Unless the philosophy advocated has a clear message for materially minded men in a material world, capable of the closest materialistic application to their material needs, we prophesy its non-acceptance by the majority as it is now minded. For if there can be no more attempts to compromise, it must declare for Christ or Barabbas, not for a little of each. It must, in short, side with either the rich or the poor, because society is at present in a state of civil war, and those (even according to the lecturer, if his reference to the ill-distribution of wealth mean anything) are the two hostile camps.

ANTI-MILITARISM.

They have done their best to damage the Washington Conference idea. It has proved almost too great for some blundering politicians who hold its fate in their careless hands. First America threatened to make it a party issue. Next Japan nearly ruined it by qualifying a reluctant acceptance. Then Lloyd George courted its extinction by planning to visit America at a time when the other nations jealously watching every move in the international game could see only one significance in the trip, Britain attempting a preliminary understanding with the United States! Followed obscure delay and much uncertainty. Eventually final invitations were issued. Some subjects were tentatively suggested for discussion, others definitely rejected. Labour planned a big disarmament demonstration. Canterbury's Archbishop, as president of the world alliance for promoting international friendship through the churches, previously proposed a day of prayer for divine blessing. No occasion was lost for oratory. The world waited.

Meanwhile, the Geneva League, apparently jealous of the possible alternative association of nations more than once mooted by American statesmen, hastily tackled the question. A heated debate ensued. One of Britain's delegates strongly urged that a definite plan for disarmament should be ready for the next Assembly to consider. He carried the day against a compatriot who demanded to know how it was possible to draft a proposal without the United States and Russia participating. A few days later the League heard an eloquent appeal for disarmament from a speaker who urged the workers of the world to fight the "herculean forces of militarism" and asked why can not Germany and France live side by side in peace. "Tiger" Clemenceau, still bitter, gave his answer almost simultaneously. The Pacific is far away, he said, the German frontier close at hand. The arch enemy must not be allowed to recover. Many French share this view, which begs the whole question.

So the position stands, still too hazy in mists of doubt, uncertainty and distrust. Their must be cleared and kept clear. Not again must scheming politicians be allowed to make a diplomatic intrigue of a conference so vital to the welfare of the world. This conference is intensely vital to the very existence of mankind. Insensate militarism unchecked will surely destroy the human race. War, it has been truly said, has passed from the stage of wholesale murder to that of State suicide. With every successive conflict leaving fewer and still fewer nations neutral (and even then certainly not free from its blight) the world has now reached the sorry pass when its only choice is disarm or perish: if the former—disarm without delay. Already the great armaments are reaching perilous heights the same mad race for naval supremacy has begun, and soon everything will be ripe again for another gigantic conflagration, this time infinitely more terrible, more ruinous and more extensive.

War must be boldly regarded and attacked as a crime against humanity. It is to purge the most likely breeding ground for future disputes that the Washington Conference meets on Armistice Day. It is through the direct coupling of the Far Eastern with the disarmament question that considerable confusion and doubt have arisen. All the nations immediately interested in the Pacific and its more important problems will attend the conference, but not all the powers concerned with disarmament. The conference has every prospect of reaching amicable adjustment of Far Eastern differences, but it can scarcely hope to secure general disarmament until all the powers concerned are assembled in conclave with good will. Too many of the nations not invited would take umbrage if the few great powers attempted to force disarmament on the world without their opinion having been sought. They stand too high in their own estimation to accept such an affront lightly. Obviously any disarmament plans hoping to succeed must receive support both general and sincere. There must be no petulance, no aggrieved feelings, and no distrust. Clearly then the Washington Conference as now proposed is inadequate. Fully competent to settle Pacific problems, and perhaps even secure material limitation of armaments in that important sphere, it cannot hope to reach real agreement on general disarmament. For the more vital question a greater conference must be summoned, a real council of the world at which every nation with a voice can make it heard. Then, and then only will militarism be honestly attacked. With an international force for punitive expeditions against "lesser breeds without the law," for bringing recalcitrant members to their senses, or for stamping out movements to revive militarism, the real world league will exact punctilious respect for its decrees. Financially, physically, and morally strong it will at last realise the inspired dream of a world brotherhood and a parliament of man.

ROCKEFELLER'S VISIT.

DEPARTURE FOR CANTON THIS MORNING.

GOVERNMENT HOUSE DINNER WEDNESDAY.

Accompanied by his wife and daughter, Mr. John D. Rockefeller, Jr., who arrived here from the North by the Canadian Pacific liner "Empress of Russia" yesterday afternoon, left for Canton by boat this morning. Mr. Rockefeller, who is travelling as a tourist, will stay in Canton at the Christian College, where he has several friends, as the guest of Dr. H. B. Graybill and his wife. Mr. Rockefeller will return to Hongkong on Tuesday evening. Wednesday he will spend motoring through the New Territory and in the evening, it is understood, will be the guest of H.E. the Governor and Lady Stubbs at dinner. On Thursday morning Mr. Rockefeller's party sails for home on the "Empress of Russia." Members of Mr. Rockefeller's immediate party who arrived here yesterday included Miss Pauline A. Bennett, Miss Lilian M. Kline and Mr. Charles O. Herrett. Other members of the party, including several connected with the Rockefeller Foundation, broke their journey at Manila but will arrive here in time to sail with the "Empress of Russia" on Thursday morning. It is understood that a tiffin arranged at the University in honour of Mr. Rockefeller had to be cancelled at the last moment owing to misunderstanding of his plans.

"I LIKE THE CHINESE."

THE MILLIONAIRE AND THE COOLIE.

Riches spoil a man, they say, but the man who gave that saying to the world never met Mr. John D. Rockefeller, Jr., who is now visiting South China after the historic week at Peking, when the Peking Union Medical College new buildings were opened.

Like most people who do not number millionaires—especially those of the "multi" species—among their acquaintances, when I sought an interview with Mr. Rockefeller, (writes a representative of The Shanghai Times) I was seized with a little apprehension and felt a little humble on entering the presence of one of the richest men in the world. These feelings were, of course, incalculable after feasting on the popular imaginary picture of what millionaires are supposed to be.

MR. ROCKEFELLER.

I was soon thankfully disillusioned. Mr. Rockefeller neither sat enthroned on piled up money bags, dominating with a sceptre, nor did he justify that entirely erroneous and spurious remark about his father by a certain individual "that we have come to look upon him as a great spider sitting back in his web seeking whom he may devour."

Picture a fair sized, well-proportioned man, with dark hair, flecked with wisps of grey, full, healthy face, broad forehead, narrow keen eyes, which are steely-blue when serious business is on hand and flash with a cheerful fire when confidences are about, thin aquiline nose, thin tightly-closed lips, strong jaw—a face with determination, foresight and keenness written large over it. Fit in this sketch with an affable temperament, a genial disposition and a sense of humour; sit him in a hotel lounge chair talking with an earnestness that denotes quick visualisation of fundamentals, and you have Mr. John D. Rockefeller Jr., son of Mr. John D. Rockefeller of Standard Oil and international philanthropic fame.

MOST UNAFFECTED PERSON.

And the one thing Mr. Rockefeller doesn't talk about, or like to talk about, is himself or his money. For a millionaire—that is merely a figure grown up in popular novels—he is the most delightful, unaffected, modest person anyone could meet and his love for humanity is as passionate as his father's.

This is Mr. Rockefeller's first visit to the Orient but, although his stay in China has been of little more than three weeks' duration he has gained impressions and formed opinions which much longer periods of concentrated study would not supply to other men. Some of these impressions, which he revealed to the Shanghai Times representative, were keen, finely-etched, and sensitive to humanitarian impulses. Were his and his father's benevolences unknown to China, this age-old country would always be able to regard him as one of her "foreigners," or perhaps a helpful guardian of her future. His sentiments will endear him to the hearts of all Chinese.

"THE PEOPLE, LORD, THE PEOPLE." The most impressive thing Mr. Rockefeller had to record was the Chinese people. Their towering millions, which completely dwarfed America's large population, astounded him at every place he visited and he had taken an instant liking to them. "I greatly admire the Chinese: they are always laughing and joking and seem quickly responsive. The patience and self-control of these people impressed me greatly. Although they are jostled about in the streets by rich and automobiles, they never lose their temper, or get excited or annoyed. These are magnificent qualities, and I think that we of the West have a lot to learn from the rank-and-file Chinese."

SAME OLD TALE.

WHICH MAY BE TRUE SOMETIMES.

Charged before Magistrate Lindsey this morning with having had in his possession 17,355 lottery tickets, a Chinese who was yesterday arrested on the Praya said that he was engaged by a man who has absconded, to carry the parcel. He did not know what it contained when he undertook the job to earn a few cents. A fine of $1,000 or, in default, three months' hard labour was passed.

Another Chinese was charged with the unlawful possession of a small quantity of lottery tickets. He gave the same excuse.

The Magistrate: Why did he give you such a small quantity to carry?—Because he was afraid of being detected and arrested.

The Magistrate: You were not afraid apparently. $50 or three weeks.

pulation, astounded him at every place he visited and he had taken an instant liking to them. "I greatly admire the Chinese: they are always laughing and joking and seem quickly responsive. The patience and self-control of these people impressed me greatly. Although they are jostled about in the streets by rich and automobiles, they never lose their temper, or get excited or annoyed. These are magnificent qualities, and I think that we of the West have a lot to learn from the rank-and-file Chinese."

CHINA AND EDUCATION.

He was acutely sensitive to China's greatest need—education—plainly evident in the great illiteracy of the people; but he said the Chinese had a hard life, struggling to obtain a bare subsistence, and they never seemed to have time for education.

"Still, I think the Chinese will quickly respond to education because of their natural aptitude to learn quickly with the hand and the brain, and to assimilate instructions and methods. Dr. Toulmin, the great French surgeon, told me, he remarked, 'that after witnessing an operation of the transplanting of skin by a Chinese surgeon, that he would never, himself, perform the operation again after seeing the Chinese do it so much more skillfully than he could do it.'"

THE CHINESE WOMAN.

The question of the status of Chinese women was asked of Mr. Rockefeller. He was, he said, very much impressed by their fine physical appearance.

"To me the average Chinese women looks intelligent, self-respecting and well kept. Of course, my experience is very limited, but I can say that I have noticed almost no frowzy, ill-kept women in China."

He intimated that there was a big future for women in the medical world in China. "Many Chinese women will not allow male doctors to attend them," he pointed out "so women ought to be trained as doctors." At the Peking Union Medical College equal facilities are offered to women as to men, and women are also being trained as nurses. We have a training school for nurses, and women assistants are being allowed in the surgical rooms. I think it is only a matter of time before the natural prejudice of the Chinese in this respect will be overcome."

OPENING THE ROAD TO HEALTH.

It was pointed out to him that a report had been circulated about a medical graduate school in Shanghai, but he said that as they had developed one institution at Peking and had accomplished their object, which was pointing the road to improved health and medical education by the application of Western scientific knowledge, the Chinese themselves should follow up the education. The Peking institution was an example to be followed. There were a hundred members of the staff but, he said, the principals were difficult to obtain owing to the big demand for their services in America and Europe.

FOND DREAMS SHATTERED.

Mr. Rockefeller chattered all those fond dreams of the lavish expenditure which a millionaire is supposed to make.

"Mrs. Rockefeller and myself do love beautiful works of art and sometimes we buy them," he said, "but I hope we never buy without discrimination. We are as-conscious of the value of a dollar as any other people and both in spending money wisely rather than wastefully."

NO LAVISH EXPENDITURE.

Millionaires are always credited with travelling in private trains, in which gold is supposed to figure in the decorations. "We travelled to China and in America very simply, in an ordinary manner without ostentation and our expenditure has not been lavish. We don't believe in it. It only creates an unhealthy standard and makes people who cannot afford it want to live and spend on the same scale," he said, earnestly and with feeling.

CLEVER ROGUE.

CURIOUS SWINDLING STORY TOLD IN COURT.

A very curious story was told by Inspector Anis this morning when prosecuting two Chinese boys charged before Magistrate Lindsell with having obtained a gold mounted rattle bangle and a gold ring from a small Chinese girl in Mongkok by false pretences. On the morning of September 11, the Inspector said, the girl was out walking with her younger brother on the Kowloon City Road. They met the first accused who got into conversation with them and invited them to go up the hill with him to pick berries or seeds which Chinese children use to make necklaces and other ornaments. They agreed and when they reached the other side of the hill, at the back of the Hoku-yuen village, met the second accused and a man, not in custody, the newcomers were approaching, the first accused told the girl that they were rogues, and advised her to take off her valuables and hand them to him to tie together with a piece of string, so that she could put them in her brother's pocket. The girl gave him the bangle and ring which he tied together with a piece of grass. He then made the brother take off his jacket and asked the girl to turn her back to him while he put the jewellery in the jacket pocket so that his action might not be seen by the approaching "rogues." The girl complied, but when she turned round the "rogues" and with them the first accused had gone. On October 5, she saw the first accused in Hungkong and gave him in charge. Information given by him led to the second accused's arrest. The man could not be found. The jewellery was traced to two pawnshops and recovered. The pawnbroker identified the second accused as the person who pawned it. The second accused admitted that he had pawned the jewellery, but declared he did not steal it. First accused said that he stole the jewellery on the instructions of the man, a fitter, to whom he was apprenticed. Second accused said that he too was an apprentice fitter. He had been out of work for nearly a week when the man came to his house on the morning in question and invited him out for a walk. In the street he was given the jewellery and told to pawn it. He did not know it was stolen. The Magistrate: The girl says she saw you on the hill with the man. Three months. Inspector Anis said that first accused had a previous conviction under a different name. The accused strenuously denied this in the face of particulars of the conviction, and the Magistrate deferred sentence in order that the police might make further enquiries.

THE PUISNE JUDGE.

LAWYERS PAY COMPLIMENT.

A compliment was paid to the Puisne Judge (Mr. J. R. Wood) in the Summary Court this morning when Mr. A. H. Crew, on behalf of about a dozen of his colleagues who had assembled for the usual Friday morning list-fixing offered His Honour their very best wishes on the occasion of his forthcoming marriage. On behalf of the legal profession Mr. Crew expressed regret at the circumstance that this would be His Honour's last appearance on the Summary Court Bench.

"This has taken me by surprise," said the Puisne Judge in replying, "but I do wish to say that I very much appreciate the compliment that the members of the legal profession have paid me in mentioning the matter. I am glad to think that we have had very friendly relations in this Court."

The Puisne Judge is to be married to Miss G. F. Kember at St. John's Cathedral next Wednesday afternoon and will then go on leave. The Chief Justice (Sir William Reeves Davies) is due to return here by the "Karmala" on October 9 and Mr. Justice Gompertz will therefore take over the Summary Court next Tuesday.

STOWAWAY JAILED.

ANOTHER TO BE REPATRIATED.

Charged before Magistrate Lindsell this morning with having stowed away from Manila by the s.s. "Hawkeye State," a Filipino was sentenced to six weeks' hard labour.

Another Filipino was charged with being a vagrant.

Sub-Inspector Gray said that accused was a stowaway on the s.s. "Shinyo Maru," which arrived here on Sept. 21, but the T.K.K. did not wish to charge him, and had undertaken to send him back to Manila. He was sent to the House of Detention, until his departure.

A WAR ECHO.

PRIZE COURT PROCEEDINGS.

Seized in the harbour on the outbreak of war as an enemy prize the s.s. "Rajahuri," formerly owned by the Norddeutscher Lloyd, was the subject of a motion heard before the Acting Chief Justice (Mr. H. H. J. Gompertz), sitting in the Prize Court this morning.

"Appearing on behalf of the 'Proper officer of the Crown' who happened to be the Crown Solicitor (Mr. G. H. Wakeman), the Attorney General (the Hon. Mr. J. H. Kemp K.C.) applied for the condemnation of the vessel. Mr. Kemp said that notice of motion had been served upon the N. D. L. Solicitors, Messrs. Deacon, Looker, Deacon and Harston and although ample time had been allowed, they had intimated that they were unable to get instructions in the matter.

From affidavits read out to the Court and cases quoted by the Attorney General it appeared that, in consequence of a later ruling, the order made by the Chief Justice in 1914 pronouncing the steamer "a good and lawful prize" was irregular and the purpose of the motion was to have the matter put in order.

His Honour agreed to the application and made the order asked for.

GRAVE COMPLAINTS.

A Military Police Corporal charged a Chinese before Magistrate Orme this morning with improper behaviour near Murray Path last night.

The Corporal said that he was walking along the path when he saw the accused accost a Marine and they walked away together towards the hill. A little later he again saw the accused and arrested him.

Inspector Field who watched the case for the police said that they had received several complaints from the Military Authorities, and these had been no fewer than five similar cases reported recently.

The Magistrate reduced the charge to one of "behaving in a disorderly way in a public place," and fined the accused $25 or 21 days.

SAILINGS FROM H

CATHEDRAL WEDDING.

BURLINGHAM-BESANT.

RECEPTION AT GOVERNMENT HOUSE.

A wedding of considerable local interest took place at St. John's Cathedral yesterday afternoon when Mr. Donald Burlingham, Assistant Superintendent of Police, was married to Miss Janette O. Besant, daughter of Mr. Edgar Besant, late of London and presently of St. Leonards-on-sea and the late Mrs. Besant.

Miss Besant arrived in the Colony about a year ago as the guest of Lady Stubbs. Mr. Burlingham, until recently, A.D.C. to H.E. the Governor, Sir Reginald E. Stubbs, K.C.M.G., is the son of Mrs. Burlingham, of Norwich, England, and of the late Mr. C. F. Burlingham. He saw service during the war.

The Cathedral was especially decorated for the occasion. At both the entrances and the chancel were tall palms and greenery.

The ceremony was largely attended and the Cathedral was almost filled. The congregation which was composed mainly of ladies included the heads of Government Departments, also Naval, Military and Police Officers. Lady Stubbs was present, wearing a white dress with lace, and a black hat.

The bride, who was given away by H.E. the Governor, entered the Cathedral preceded by a full choir. She looked charming in a beautiful creation of ivory tulle with a train of satin, falling from the shoulders. She wore a veil of Mechlin net with lace border, lent by Lady Stubbs. In her hand was a beautiful bouquet of mauve and white orchids tied with yellow ribbon.

The Misses Rachel and Hope Irving were the bridesmaids, while Master Philip Stubbs and Miss Anna Beddingham acted as train bearers. The Misses Irving wore dresses of yellow tulle with a touch of brown tulle at the side, and brown tulle hats. Master Stubbs wore brown knickerbockers buttoned to a yellow shirt fastened with gold cuff links, the gift of the bridegroom.

The Lord Bishop of Victoria (the Rev. C. R. Dupper) officiated, assisted by the Acting Chaplain (the Rev. J. T. Holman, M.A.). Mr. L. H. V. Booth performed the duties of groom's man.

The service was fully choral. Mr. T. Bevan, M.C., officiated at the organ. The hymns "Now thank we all our God," and "O Perfect Love," were sung during the ceremony.

After the ceremony, the register was signed in the vestry in the presence of Sir Reginald and Lady Stubbs. The happy couple then left the Cathedral under an archway of swords by the European and Indian Inspectors of the Police Force. Formed up outside was a guard of honour composed of members of the Force in full parade uniform. The organ played Mendelssohn's "Wedding March."

A reception was afterwards held at Government House, to which the following guests were invited:

DRAMATIC RESCUE AT SEA.

TWENTY-FIVE LIVES SAVED BY THE GULF OF PECHILI.

A dramatic rescue at sea was accomplished by the C.M.S. "Shantung" on Tuesday last week in the course of her voyage to Shanghai, the incident reflecting the greatest credit on the Master (Captain C. A. Christiansen) and the ship's company. When in latitude 38.10 N. 120.23 E., and at a time when a very high sea was running, the look-out sighted a small boat with a single sail hoisted, tossing about in a hopeless plight. It was presently seen that there were a number of men aboard her and the "Shantung" immediately went to the rescue. In circumstances of very considerable difficulty the vessel was got sufficiently near the derelict craft to enable ropes to be thrown and made fast and after half an hour's hard work the boat was brought alongside and the men on her hauled aboard, all being safely transferred. Twenty-five lives were thus saved.

The men rescued were members of the crew of the Japanese steamer "Konn Maru," a cargo vessel of 1,000 tons, which left Chinwangtao on the morning of Sept. 24. Heavy weather was encountered and the vessel foundered in the Gulf of Pechili, three lives being lost at the time the crew took to the boats. The survivors, who had been drifting about perilously for nearly 38 hours when picked up by the "Shantung," were in an exhausted condition, but quickly recovered, thanks to the attention they received. On arrival of the "Shantung" at Chefoo the men were handed over to the care of the Japanese Consul.

PRINCE'S VISIT.

RESTRICTION OF GIFTS AND EXPENDITURE.

In connection with the compliments paid to the Prince of Wales for the example he has set other owners of house property by his management of the Duchy of Cornwall and his property at Kennington, the London correspondent of the Manchester Guardian says that the Prince has put so much of his income back into his estates that for the last two years he has left himself a very slender margin for his personal expenditure. This margin has been further reduced by the fact that, like the King, he has put his household on a "Civil Servant" basis, with the result that he finds his wages and pensions list greatly increased.

The Prince's expenses must also be considerably increased by his visit to India, although he goes to India as a Government emissary. It is understood that, especially in consideration of the Duke of Connaught's visit, Indian Princes have been begged to restrict their gifts and expenditure to the smallest possible dimensions.

The correspondent adds: "At a time like this the whole idea of large sums being received and spent in ceremonial presents seems particularly foolish and distasteful. It is one of the many features of the Prince's visit to India which increases the large body of opinion against the visit held in high quarters, as well as by the average thinking citizen."

DELICATE FROM BIRTH.

How Baby's Own Tablets Help Weakly Children.

In three words—'delicate from birth'—is expressed a world of anxieties suffered by mothers whose children have had a bad start in life. For little ones who are ailing, peevish, worried by teething, fickle of appetite, and unable to digest food, Baby's Own Tablets have proved of the utmost value.

My last baby was sickly from birth and the benefit Baby's Own Tablets have afforded is simply wonderful. They do all that is claimed for them and more, and I would not be without them for anything," writes Mrs. A.D. Waite, 127 Fremont Avenue, North Minneapolis, U. S. A.

Baby's Own Tablets, the Canadian children's remedy, are obtainable from chemists, also post free 80 cents the vessel from Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., 98 Szechuen Road, Shanghai.

BIG RUBBER SCHEME DROPPED.

PROPOSED £2,000,000 PRODUCERS CORPORATION.

LONDON, October 6.

The Rubber Growers' Association announces that the scheme to form a rubber producers' corporation will be dropped. It is stated that a large number of the directors and shareholders are ready to support the scheme but they are outnumbered by other European and native owners.

[A London cable dated July 15 stated:—At a meeting of the Rubber Growers' Association, held in London, a scheme was submitted for the formation of a producers' corporation, with a nominal capital of £2,000,000 in £1 shares, with borrowing powers up to £3,000,000, of which a minimum of £3,000,000 would be raised in the first instance with the object of controlling rubber output. Members would fix the selling price and regulate the sale of rubber and the opening of further rubber lands, purchase or make advances on rubber harvested or to be harvested, and, if desirable, make advances on security to approved rubber estates belonging to members of the corporation. The corporation would not go to allotment until owners of at least 2,200,000 acres, including a Dutch corporation which would be formed simultaneously, came into the scheme. If this should not be forthcoming, the scheme will fall through.]

PANAMA CANAL TOLLS.

SENATE DEBATE EVOKES OPPOSING VIEWS.

WASHINGTON, October 6.

In the Senate, debating Senator Borah's bill aiming at free tolls for American ships sailing through the Panama Canal, Senator Colt (Republican) advocated arbitration on the matter with Britain. He declared that legislative action was very serious and would affect the outcome of the Washington Conference. Senator Calder (Republican) supported the measure on the ground that it was solely applicable to United States vessels engaged in coastal and not in foreign trade. Therefore, there was no question of discrimination.

AUSTRIA BY IRSHIP.

HUGHES FAVOURS EXPERIMENTAL SERVICE.

MELBOURNE, October 6.

Mr. Hughes, in the House of Representatives, reviewing the work of the Imperial Conference, urged the adoption of the Australian scheme of wireless communication with England as preferable to the Norman scheme of relays. He submitted a proposal for an experiment in air service for two years at a cost of £250,000 by utilizing four ships from England with mooring masts at Cairo, Karachi, Singapore and Australia. He said that if long distance air communication proved practicable it would be unnecessary for Australia to advertise for immigrants.
